ABOUT JUNIOR LEAGUE OF DENVER

The Junior League of Denver (JLD) is a dynamic women’s training organization dedicated to developing civic leaders committed to improving our community. Since 1918, JLD has empowered women to become skilled volunteers and agents of change. Today, our focus is on disrupting the cycle of systemic poverty for women and families in the Denver metro area through hands-on community impact and advocacy. Over the decades, JLD has played a foundational role in launching and supporting key Denver institutions, including the Children’s Museum of Denver, the Mile High Transplant Bank (now Donor Alliance), and the iconic Red Rocks concerts, among many others.
